

Road To your Career

Imagine a car on a long, twisty road
It changed speeds every few moments but continued to flow
Then suddenly it jerked
Because on the road a sharp turn lurked
It weaved back and forth
It wobbled off course
Now imagine it slowly regained control
It turned back on path and continued to roll
Now, what if the car is you
And the road is the career you choose
For the path will swerve
But you'll keep going no matter the curve
There may be hills
There may be thrills
But the path continues
Choose to go on to see all the views
The sad and the happy, the ups and downs
The whole way around
